Scheduling Meetings

Leads will send a when2meet the week of October 11th to schedule meetings for the rest of the quarter. All group members are expected to be present at the meetings if possible.

In the event of an emergency meeting, the notice should be posted in the Slack scheduling channel and everyone should react to signal whether they can attend.

If a sub-team needs to meet, the emergency meeting procedure should be followed along with a Slack notice of who needs to attend.

Whoever is leading the meeting is responsible for putting together an agenda and assigning a scribe.
